

ABIDEROOTED

Faith at Home Family Worship Toolkit

Simple, Christ-Centered Worship for Your Family

CHILDREN · FAMILY WORSHIP TOOLKIT · FREE RESOURCE

Begin Here

The Faith at Home Family Worship Toolkit provides parents with four simple, Christ-centered worship sessions to use with their children. Each session includes Scripture, teaching, conversation questions, prayer, and a practical activity. The toolkit also offers guidance on building a sustainable family worship rhythm, helping families make worship a natural and consistent part of daily life.

Welcome to the Faith at Home Family Worship Toolkit! This resource is designed to help you lead your family in simple, Christ-centered worship right in your own home. You don't need to be a theologian or have a perfect schedule. All you need is a willing heart and a few minutes each day. As Joshua declared, "As for me and my house, we will serve the LORD" (Joshua 24:15). This toolkit provides four easy-to-follow worship sessions, each with Scripture, teaching, conversation, prayer, and a simple practice. Use them as they are or adapt them to fit your family's rhythm. The goal is not perfection but presence—being together before God, growing in grace, and learning to abide in Christ. May your home be filled with faith, hope, and love as you take these small steps of obedience.

How to Use This Guide

Deuteronomy 6:6-7

“And these words, which I command thee this day, shall be in thine heart: And thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children, and shalt talk of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up.”

Family worship is not another item on your to-do list; it is a natural way of life for those who follow Christ. In Deuteronomy 6, God calls parents to weave His words into the fabric of everyday moments—sitting, walking, lying down, rising up. This toolkit helps you do just that by providing simple, structured times to gather together. Each session is designed to last about 10-15 minutes, making it easy to fit into your day. You can use these sessions in order or pick one that fits your family's current need. The key is consistency, not length. Even a few minutes of focused attention on God can have a profound impact on your children's hearts. Remember, you are not performing for an audience; you are shepherding your children's souls. Let go of perfectionism and embrace the beauty of simple, repeated rhythms. As you practice these sessions, you will find that worship becomes a natural part of your family's life, fulfilling the call to teach God's ways diligently to the next generation.

Put It Into Practice

Choose a regular time and place for family worship. Keep this guide and a Bible nearby. Before you begin, pray a simple prayer asking God to bless your time together.

Reflect & Talk Together

1. What time of day works best for your family to gather for worship?
2. What distractions can you set aside to focus on God together?

Prayer

Lord Jesus, thank You for the gift of family. Help us to make time for You in our home. Give us wisdom and patience as we lead our children in worship. May our home be a place where Your name is honored and Your love is shared. Amen.

Worship Session 1: God Is Our Creator

Genesis 1:1

“In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth.”

The very first verse of the Bible tells us something amazing: God created everything! He spoke the world into existence—the sun, the moon, the stars, the animals, and even you and me. This truth is the foundation of our faith. When we understand that God is our Creator, we know that we are not accidents or random products of chance. We are lovingly made by a powerful God who has a purpose for each of us. As you share this with your children, help them see the wonder of creation. Look at the sky, the trees, or even a tiny ant—all of it shows God's creativity and care. Because God made us, He knows us completely and loves us deeply. This truth gives us security and identity. When we worship God as Creator, we acknowledge that He is in charge and that we can trust Him with our lives. He is not distant or uncaring; He is intimately involved in His creation, especially in the lives of His children.

Put It Into Practice

Go outside and find something beautiful in nature—a flower, a cloud, a leaf. Take turns thanking God for creating it. If you can, bring it inside and place it where you can see it as a reminder of God's creativity.

Reflect & Talk Together

1. What is your favorite thing that God created? Why?
2. How does knowing God made you make you feel special?

Prayer

Dear God, thank You for making the world and everything in it. Thank You for making us. Help us to see Your handiwork all around us and to remember that You are our loving Creator. Amen.

Worship Session 2: Jesus Loves the Children

Mark 10:14

“But when Jesus saw it, he was much displeased, and said unto them, Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God.”

In Mark 10, people were bringing little children to Jesus, but the disciples tried to send them away. They thought Jesus was too busy or too important for children. But Jesus was 'much displeased' with His disciples. He welcomed the children and said, 'Let the little children come to me.' This shows us that Jesus loves children and values them greatly. He even said that the kingdom of God belongs to such as these. What a wonderful truth! Your children are not a distraction to Jesus; they are precious to Him. He wants them to come to Him, to know Him, and to be part of His family. As parents, we have the joy of bringing our children to Jesus. We can do this through prayer, through teaching them about Him, and through showing them His love in our actions. When we lead family worship, we are doing exactly what Jesus desires—helping our children come to Him. And Jesus welcomes them with open arms, just as He welcomed the children long ago.

Put It Into Practice

Have each family member share one thing they love about Jesus. Then, as a family, pray for children around the world who do not yet know Jesus' love.

Reflect & Talk Together

1. How do you know Jesus loves you?
2. What can you do this week to show Jesus' love to others?

Prayer

Jesus, thank You for loving children and for welcoming us to come to You. Help us to always feel safe and loved in Your presence. Teach us to love others the way You love us. Amen.

Worship Session 3: God Hears Our Prayers

Jeremiah 33:3

“Call unto me, and I will answer thee, and shew thee great and mighty things, which thou knowest not.”

Prayer is simply talking to God. And the Bible promises that when we call to Him, He will answer us. This is an amazing privilege! The God who created the universe listens to our voices. He cares about our joys, our worries, and our needs. In Jeremiah 33:3, God invites us to call on Him and promises to show us great and mighty things we do not know. This means that prayer is not just a ritual; it is a real conversation with a living God who loves us. For children, prayer can be simple and honest. They can thank God for their day, ask for help with a problem, or pray for a friend who is sick. Encourage your children to pray throughout the day, not just at mealtimes or bedtime. When they are scared, they can pray. When they are happy, they can pray. When they are sorry, they can pray. God is always ready to listen. As you pray together as a family, you are teaching your children that God is near and that they can rely on Him at all times.

Put It Into Practice

Create a family prayer jar. Write down prayer requests on slips of paper and place them in the jar. Each day, take one out and pray for that request together. Watch for God's answers!

Reflect & Talk Together

1. What is something you want to talk to God about?
2. When have you seen God answer a prayer?

Prayer

Heavenly Father, thank You that we can talk to You anytime, anywhere. Help us to remember that You are always listening. Teach us to pray with faith and to trust that You will answer in Your perfect way. Amen.

Worship Session 4: We Can Trust God Always

Proverbs 3:5-6

“Trust in the LORD with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding. In all thy ways acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy paths.”

Life is full of choices and sometimes we do not know which way to go. But God gives us a wonderful promise: if we trust Him with all our hearts and do not rely only on what we think, He will guide us. This means we can bring our questions, our fears, and our decisions to God. He promises to direct our paths. For children, this might mean trusting God when they are worried about a test, when they have a disagreement with a friend, or when they face something new and scary. We can teach them to pray and ask God for wisdom. We can also show them what it looks like to trust God by our own example. When we face difficulties, do we panic or do we pray? When we make decisions, do we seek God's will or just our own? Our children are watching. As we trust God in our daily lives, we are passing on a legacy of faith. Trusting God is not always easy, but it is always right. He is faithful, and He will never let us down.

Put It Into Practice

Share a time when you trusted God and He helped you. Then, have each family member think of one area where they need to trust God more. Pray together, asking God to help you trust Him in those areas.

Reflect & Talk Together

1. What is something you are worried about that you can give to God?
2. How can you trust God more this week?

Prayer

Lord, You are faithful and true. Help us to trust You with all our hearts, even when we do not understand. Guide our steps and show us the way to go. We put our hope in You. Amen.

Building a Sustainable Family Rhythm

Joshua 24:15

“And if it seem evil unto you to serve the LORD, choose you this day whom ye will serve; whether the gods which your fathers served that were on the other side of the flood, or the gods of the Amorites, in whose land ye dwell: but as for me and my house, we will serve the LORD.”

Joshua made a bold declaration: 'As for me and my house, we will serve the LORD.' This is a decision that each family must make. It is not enough to have good intentions; we must intentionally choose to serve God in our homes. This means making family worship a regular part of your routine. But how do you sustain it? First, keep it simple. You do not need elaborate lessons or activities. A few minutes of Scripture, prayer, and conversation can be powerful. Second, be consistent. Try to meet at the same time each day, whether it is after breakfast, before dinner, or at bedtime. Consistency builds habit. Third, be flexible. Life happens—schedules change, children get sick, parents are tired. Do not be discouraged if you miss a day. Just pick up where you left off. Fourth, involve everyone. Let each family member take turns leading a part of the worship time. This gives children ownership and helps them grow in their faith. Finally, remember that family worship is not about checking a box; it is about cultivating a relationship with God. As you gather together, you are building a legacy of faith that will impact your children for generations to come.

Put It Into Practice

Create a simple family worship plan for the next month. Decide on a time, a place, and a format. Post it somewhere visible as a reminder. Commit to trying it for one month, then evaluate and adjust as needed.

Reflect & Talk Together

1. What is one thing you can do to make family worship more consistent?
2. How can you involve your children in leading worship?

Prayer

Father, we choose to serve You in our home. Give us the discipline and desire to gather together in Your name. May our family worship be a time of grace, growth, and joy. Help us to be faithful in the small moments, trusting that You will build our faith. Amen.

Continue Abiding

As you embark on this journey of family worship, remember that God is with you. He does not expect perfection; He desires faithfulness. Each time you gather to read His Word, pray, and share His love, you are planting seeds of faith that will bear fruit for years to come. Trust in the Lord with all your heart, and lean not on your own understanding. In all your ways acknowledge Him, and He will direct your paths (Proverbs 3:5-6). May your home be a place where Christ is honored, where grace abounds, and where the next generation learns to love and serve the Lord. And remember, it is not by your own strength but by His Spirit that you will succeed. Abide in Christ, and let His words dwell in you richly. As you do, you will see your family grow in faith and love. Go in peace, and may the Lord bless you and your household.

ABIDEROOTED

Grow. Root. Abide. · abiderooted.org